

Curtis N. Kamisugi, D.D.S., M.S.D.

Specialty: Orthodontics

Dr. Curtis Kamisugi continually raises the bar in orthodontics one smile at a time. Holding a D.D.S. with high distinction and a master's degree in orthodontics from Indiana University, he perpetually updates his practice to perfect patients' results and enhance their experiences.

Dr. Kamisugi's intraoral photographic scanner, allowing impressions without using uncomfortable trays and alginate, is greatly appreciated by his patients. Also, his highly trained staff's unique bracket placement techniques enable the application of braces in half the time of traditional application. For busy families, his offices—'Aiea, Honolulu and Mililani—all utilize online appointments and receive phone, email and text.

His practice's AOAC team, certified by the leading national provider of orthodontic assisting and clinical training, has earned this distinguished achievement annually by completing countless hours of continuing education and passing rigorous testing on orthodontic technique and theory. It is offered to practices with a majority of team members passing a comprehensive curriculum and testing program.

Dr. Kamisugi and staff embody the aloha spirit in their friendly service to patients. What makes the difference is that throughout treatment and thereafter, everyone feels a part of the 'ohana.
